

"Beloved presence dwelling within this moment. We give gratitude, for it is by thy calling, by thy decree that this prayer come forth. Awaken every heart, touch every heart, call forth the fullness of every heart, that all dreams that come from this moment be dreams from the heart.

Consume all my fears, all my doubts, I offer them to you now. Fill me with courage; courage to surrender to the callings of my heart. Speak loudly through me - this embodiment - this dream world.

Wake me from the dream of separation, show me the way each moment, that as I move through this dream, all that I see, all that I touch, all that I do, be an act of love and sweetness. Anchor my awareness into this moment, calm my agitation. Bring me into the awareness. Oh Light. Oh Beauty. Bring me to truth. This moment, I offer all that I am to the Love, to the Source within me, that that consume everything in expression in my reality. Use me. In gratitude. In love.

It is with this prayer that I decree in this moment to be an instrument of Love, of Light.

It is in this moment that I decree that I AM an instrument of Love and Light, through mental, through physical, through emotional, through spirit. In this moment I decree as an expression of the one Source that which I AM.

From this moment forth I pledge allegiance to the love within me, I pledge allegiance to my heart, I pledge allegiance to the beauty that I am, and in each moment I pledge allegiance to shine forth this beauty. For that which is Grace takes form this moment. That which is Love, Ease and Flow takes form this moment, for I AM that.

I choose this moment with full heart.

So it is. So be it. So mote it be."
